SHIP ABANDONED AT ANCHOR. Eighteen Rescued From Water-

logged Schooner. NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 7 .-Waterlogged and partly submerged, being kept affoat by its cargo of railroad ties, the American schooner distributing companies in Chicago, it Charles A. Campbell, bound from Fernandina to New York, has been strike of 10,000 milk producers. The inabandoned at anchor seventy-five miles southeast of Cape Heury, and Capt. Pearce, his wife and two children and crew of fifteen landed not Old Point. A coast guard cutter will be sent out today to bring in the schooner.

The rescue of the eighteen persons aboard the Campbell was effected by the Norwegian steamer Senator hourd.

crease will become effective Monday.

The price was advanced by the Ira

J. Mix Company, which granted the demands of the farmers to pay $1.55 instead of $1.33½ per hundred pounds.

This action leaves the Borden and Bowman companies alone in the fight with the producers.

An injunction asking that members of the Milk Producers' Association be restrained from interfering with the business of the Bowman Dairy Company was filed in the circuit court. An injunction asking that members of the Milk Producers' Association be schooner was sighted at anchor and flying distress signals yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Capt. Pearce signaled that his ship had sprung leaks that could not be overcome and that she was waterlogged. The rescue was made in small boats and the Senator turned back to Cape Henry, where last night she put the refugees aboard the pilot boat William A. Graves, which, in turn, brought them to Oid Point.

The Campbell's home port is Perth Amboy, N. J. She is 228 feet long and has a net tonnage of 1,493. She was built at Bath, Me., in 1899.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

ON PREPAREDNESS

"To an active external commerce the protection of a naval force is indispensable. This is manifest with regard to wars in which a state is itself a party. But besides this, it is in our own experience that the most sincere neutrality is not a sufficient guard against the depredations of nations at war. To secure respect to a neutral flag requires a naval force organized and ready to vindicate it from insult or aggression. This may even prevent the necessity of going to war by dis-couraging belligerent powers from committing such violations of the rights of the neutral party as may, From the best information I have been able to obtain it would seem as if our trade to the Mediterranean without a protecting force will always be insecure, and our citizens exposed to the calamities from which numbers of them have but just been relieved. "These considerations invite the United States to look to the means, and to set about the gradual creation of a navy. * * *

"The institution of a military academy is also recommended by cogent reasons. However pacific the general policy of a nation may be, it ought never to be without an adequate stock of military knowledge for emergencies. The first would impair the energy of its character, and both would hazard its safety or expose it to greater evils when war could not be avoided; besides that, war might often not depend upon its own choice. In proportion as the observance of pacific maxims might exempt a nation from the necessity of practicing the rules of the military art ought to be its care in preserving and transmitting, by proper establishments, the knowledge of that art. Whatever argument may be drawn from particular examples superficially viewed, a thorough examination of the subject will evince that the art of war is at once comprehensive and complicated; that it demands much previous study, and that the possession of it in its most improved and perfect state is always of great moment to the security of a nation. This, therefore, ought to be a serious care of every government, and for this purpose an academy where a regu-lar course of instruction is given s an obvious expedient which different nations have successfully employed."—From his eighth an nual address to the Senate and House of Representatives, December 7, 1796.

Shut back the sound of sin;
And yet no volce, no whisper.

Comes floating down from thee
To tell us what giad wonders
One year in heaven may be.
